An Indian Killer Interviewed.

From the Davenport (Iowa) Cazette, Aug. 18] There has been stopping in this city for a couple of days past one of those characters who have made for themselves a celebrity for their bravery and daring on the plains of the far West among the Indians and the buffalo, in recounting whose deeds, hair-breadth escapes, and peculiar life, the pages of romance are filled. The person to whom we refer is no less a tently, it is sure to cure character than "Camanche Bill," who is reputed to be the slayer of no less than 183 Indians. He has been nine years on the plains, part of which time he has been in the employ of the Government as scout. He has hunted and killed Indians for the pleasure and sweets of revenge, and hunted and trapped of necessi-He is now on his return to his old life in the West, having been on a visit to his early home in Minnesota. He is about twenty-eight years of age, of slender build, sandy complexion, with a profusion of hair that he wears long on his neck. His dress is a pair of buckskin pants, ornamented from the outer seams with a row of steel buttons, a coarse shirt, an old coat, and a broad-brimmed hat. His eye is piercing keen, and he has a grip like a dozen blacksmiths. In response to our questions he

"My name is George W. Porter. I have been on the plains since '62. I was in the Minnesota massacre, near New Elm, the 18th of August of that year. All my folks were killed, except me and my little sister whom they took prisoner. Where was you?"

"I was away at the military station on business; went the day before. The first I knew of the massacre, I was coming along the road on my way home, when I saw a little ways ahead of me a wagon filled with women and children that the settlers had sent to the station for protection. Just then I saw the Indians pounce upon them, and I dodged into woods. I could hear the hatchets crushing into their heads. They killed 'em all—every one.'

"What did you do?" They scalped 'em, and when the coast was clear I got out, and pretty soon along came a company of cavalry, and we buried them.

'Why didn't you follow after the Indians?" "I had no horse, and the captain didn't want his men to go. You see that was in '62, and everything was topsy-turvy. "Did you visit the scene of the massacre at

New Elm? "Yes. I went there the next day, and saw my father and mother all scalped and cut up, and my sister was gone. I swore by the eternal God I would never rest until I had had revenge-a bloody revenge. "Did you get any traces of your sister?" "Why, yes; they was the Yankon, Sawnee and Sioux Indians, and I knowed them pretty well. I learned that they had her. I knowed what they'd do with her. "You have not been successful in your efforts to secure her?" "No; you see, single-handed and alone, a man don't stand much chance. That's what I had been doing all the time. Once, in Arizona. I was right in the sight of her. The way I knowed it was her was, I had been on the trail of the band of Sioux that had her a long time, and she was the only white person they had. This was in '65, and then she looked just like mother. I waited and watched and watched, and picked an Indian off every little while, when he'd get a mile or two from camp. but 'twas no use. They kept too good watch

"Were you ever captured?"
"Yes. The Blackfeets captured me and Jim Braden, in '64, when we were out hunting. They came on us with a rush, but they didn't get us though until I had killed one young "What did they do with you?"

over her.

"They marched about twenty-five miles to their camp, and there they stripped us of every thing we had, and tied us to a stake and let the women pound us with clubs. They did this every day, for eight days. We were tied with buckskin throngs, and one night it rained, and we slipped out of 'em when they got wet .-Jim got away all right, and just as I was gittin' my things on, an old squaw woke up and gave the alarm. There was but four Indians in the camp. The rest had gone on a hunt. I run, with only my knife. They came up to me, and I had a desperate fight. One shot had hit me in the left arm," (exhibiting scar,) "I cut and slashed the buck that had got hold of me, and finally gave him one under the ribs, so he won't tie any more throngs. And he cut me here, too, here, and here, "(showing scars in his arm neck and breast.) "The other buck never came near, for I'd got this buck's gun afore he'd reached us.'

The rest of "Camanche Bill's" story; how he followed his sister among the Camanches, and had a fight with the white chief of that nation, and other coually interesting accounts, we shall have to omit. But if our readers want to see a genuine frontiersman, they should call upon the "Indian fighter" himself.

THE FOLLOWING WILL BE READ WITH INTEREST: Under date of April 26th, 1871, Dr. HENRY J. ROGERS, 68 Sharp street, Baltimore, an eminent physician, writes regarding

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY:

"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from a severe fever peculiar to the country. On my recovering, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without at all af-fecting the remainder To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various preparations, both in Europe and in this country; but they all had one great defect—they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, I can get the desired shade—the natural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of.

Yours truly, HENRY J. ROGERS.

Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations but compounds of Sugar of Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surprise that the demand for NATTANS' CRYS TAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the poisonous articles claim to do, should have increased so rapidly. It restores the color and growth of the hair positively in a few days; strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the most economical preparation in use. Put up in large bottles, at one dollar.

SEWING MACHINES.

HOWE'S IMPROVED

Lock-Stitch Sewing Machines

Are world-renowned for durability and simplicity of machinery, the perfection of the tensions, and the unparalleled wide range of work they are capable of performing without change or readjustment.

At the great "Exposition Universelle" in Paris, in 1867, they were awarded the highest prize -a massive Gold Medal-over 92 competitors. and the Grand Cross of the Legion of Honor was conferred on Elias Howe as the original inventor of the Sewing Machine.

The growing appreciation of their characteristic excellence by the intelligent people of this country was clearly shown by the unprecedented sales of the Howe Sewing Machine during the past year, being far in excess of those of any other one patent. More than 1000 of these excellent machines are in daily use in the cities of Washington and Georgetown, and of this very large number a single case of dissatisfaction cannot be found. They make the "Howe," or "Lock-Stitch," which has the same beautiful appearance on either side of the fabric sewed, and they are the only machines that make this beautiful stitch to perfection. A branch office has been recently established at No. 105, King street. If you are prejudiced in favor of any particular machine, at least examine the Howe before you purchase. Remember that Mr. Howe was the original inventor of the Sewing Machine, and gave twenty years of his life to perfecting this machine.

Every Howe Machine is warranted for ten years' constant use by the company, and is kept always in perfect order by the local agency. Purchasers are thoroughly instructed at their residences, by competent instructresses, in every variety of plain and ornamental sewing. An efficient lady operator will be in constant attendance at the office, and machine stitching of every description will be neatly and promptly J. KARR, General Agent, executed.

Reflect that a sound mind and body are the most necessary requisites to promote connubial happiness, Indeed, without these the journey through life becomes a weary pilgrimage, the prospect hourly darkons to the view, the mind becomes shadowed with despair, and filled with the me'ancholy reflection that the happiness of anoth. is blighted with our own. SEASE OF IMPRUDENCE.

When e misguided and ir prudent votary of pleasur inds that he has imbibed the seeds of this pair al disease, it too often happens that an ill-time, ease of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those who, from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this herrid disease makes their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, diseased nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shin bones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity, till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration till death puts a period to his dreadful suffering, by kinds of Country Produce. Goods forwarded sending him to that undiscovered country "from whence no traveller returns."

It is a melancholy fact that thousands DIE victims to this terrible disease, through falling into the hands of ignorant or unskilful PRE-TENDERS, who, by the use of that deadly Poison, Mercury, &c., destroy the consistion, and incapable of curing, keep the unhappy suf-ferer month after month taking their noxious o injurious compounds, and instead of being re stored to a renewal of Life, Vigorand Happiness in despair leave him with ruined Health to sight over his galling disappointment.
